AMBULANCES MAY SET NEW RECORD IN '62

Use of the Gettysburg Fire Department ambulances should set another record this year, Julius Swope, chairman of the firemen's ambulance board, told the Rotary Club at its dinner meeting Monday night in the YWCA.

The 514 trips made by the ambulances last year set the prior record, he said. So far this year 279 trips have been made, and it is probable that the use during the second half of the year will equal that figure.

Swope said the local volunteer ambulance program has been in existence "since 1947 when the firemen had an opportunity to buy a second-hand ambulance for $1,000 and decided they would see if they could help solve the problem of ambulance service. At that time, there were only about three ambulances in the county, including the one operated by the hospital."

13 AMBULANCES NOW

"The experiment worked well and about two years later the hospital decided the firemen were doing such a good job the hospital gave its ambulance to the firemen and went out of that business."

"Each year has shown an increase in ambulance use despite the fact that a large number of other fire companies have also entered the field and there are now 13 ambulances immediately available in Adams County and in northern Maryland."

"To add to the efficiency of the service, radio communications permit the ambulances to notify the hospital enroute as to what to expect in the line of emergency and thus the hospital can be better prepared to serve the patient when he arrives. In addition, the radio communications through the Quick Call center provides for more efficient uses of the ambulances."

"Support of the ambulance is provided by donations given by persons who use the ambulance within the county, from a charge of 25 cents a mile round trip made when ambulances go outside the county, by donations given by organizations and by $1,000 given each year from the proceeds of the annual firemen's festival. Right now we are raising a fund to purchase a new ambulance within a few years to replace the old one. By the end of this year there should be $5,000 in that fund."

Donald Jacobs demonstrated use of various equipment including the inhalator - resuscitator given by the Elks and the plastic lung donated by the Moose. Following the Rotary meeting in the YWCA, he demonstrated the equipment in the new ambulance parked on Lincoln Square.

A meeting of the circus committee was held following the regular meeting. President Clark Smith and Chairman Melvin Sergeant named as special subcommittee: Tickets, Frank Ruth, Basil Benson, Paul Witt and Julius Swope; posters, William Lentz.

ARREST DRIVER AFTER CRASH

Delbert H. Eller, 25, Gettysburg R. 5, was placed in the county jail Monday night charged with reckless driving and driving without an operator's license after his car struck a parked vehicle on E. Middle St.

Borough police said Eller was driving west on the first block of E. Middle St. when his car struck a parked vehicle owned by H. Wayne Cluck, 48, Gettysburg R. 3. The impact drove Cluck's car up onto the sidewalk and within a foot of 36 E. Middle St.

Police estimated damage to Eller's car at $75 and to Cluck's at $250.

There were no injuries. According to the call sheet the charges brought against Eller by police before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder marked a third offense for the man.

Eller was scheduled to appear before the justice for a hearing this morning.

Reds Alter Text Of Interview

MOSCOW (AP) — The 13 American editors who interviewed Soviet Premier Khrushchev last Friday complained that the Russians made numerous changes in editing the official transcript of the proceedings. "Yes" even came out "no."

At one point during the interview, Khrushchev asked the Americans, all members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors: "Were you restricted in any way during your tour of the Soviet Union?"

"Yes," they replied with one voice.

"No," was the way the answer came in the transcript they received Monday.

The questions were written, then read aloud at the Kremlin session. The Americans said they believed the questions were rephrased to fit into the Communist party line when they appear in the party newspaper Pravda Wednesday.

REC DIRECTOR SUBMITS HIS RESIGNATION

Lee Raffensperger, recreation director here for the last two years, has resigned the position effective September 1.

Raffensperger formally presented his resignation to the Recreation Board at its meeting Monday evening at the local high school and told the group that "while I will hate to leave Gettysburg I simply could not turn down the offer given me by Litztz."

He did not indicate the salary he will receive in his new post but said that it was "much higher" than the $5,200 a year he receives here. Another feature that caused him to accept the Litztz recreation director post, he said, is the fact that the borough has a recreation center where programs can be held throughout the year.

Gettysburg has no center. Summer programs are held at various playgrounds, winter programs in the high school and other schools.

OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

Raffensperger began his duties here in 1960 after the resignation of Chester Hilger from the post to accept a better offer in New Jersey.

The recreation board accepted Raffensperger's resignation "with regret" and immediately set in motion steps to secure a successor.

Raffensperger, expressing his thanks to "the board, the people of Gettysburg, the organizations and everyone else for making my work here a pleasure," had a number of suggestions to make to the board for long term study.

He suggested that the board ask borough council to consider purchase of some "tot lot" areas. Two of the "tot lots" are currently on land owned by private individuals who enter into contracts with the owners. In both cases there is a strong possibility that the land may be used for other purposes within a year or two.

Borough ownership of land for the tot lots would "remove the uncertainty." The possibility of asking council to permanently set aside part or all of the land it owns on E. Middle St. as a tot lot was discussed.

The present Fourth St. Tot Lot site was mentioned as one of the two which "will probably not be available for another year."

Raffensperger also asked the board to consider some solution to problems raised by the annual

The turnpike spokesman said the tunnel walls were damaged but not enough to prevent the safe passage of traffic.

Eisenhower Welcomes French Group

Former President Eisenhower welcomed a group of visitors from France at 10:15 o'clock this morning. The Europeans were in a jovial mood despite the light rain that fell while the General was speaking. The Eisenhowers left Gettysburg today for New York from where they will sail Wednesday for a tour of Europe. (Times photo)

LIKE SALUTES FRENCH PARTY FROM TERRACE

General Dwight D. Eisenhower greeted 85 citizens of Arles, France, on the rear terrace of his office building, Carlisle St., this morning at 10:15 o'clock. Introduced by Congressman George Goodling, York-Adams-Cumberland District, Eisenhower spoke for 10 minutes in a drizzling rain, with an assist from Dr. Albert Bachman, professor of Romance languages at Gettysburg College, who handled the general's translation.

Eisenhower told the French "twinnings" not to take his introduction seriously, noting that while he was complimented, he was hardly impressed. He expressed his delight at meeting the French citizens in his own bailiwick and encouraged more "people to people diplomacy" without governments getting in the way.

TO VISIT FRANCE

He said that he would soon spend a week in France on his European tour and looked forward to the event. He expressed the hope that "all of us will have peace soon and be able to forget the fears and armament forced upon us by a hostile ideology." He assured the Arlesians that they would meet friendliness and affection from all Americans.

CHIDES

He chided Dr. Bachman at the conclusion of the ceremony for failing to render "Pennsylvania Dutchmen," a phrase he used in hoping that York "twinnings" would visit France, into recognizable French.

The Arlesians greeted Eisenhower's remarks with bursts of applause and "tres bien" (very good) floated up again and again.

The visitors are on an exchange visit under a "twinning" program begun two years ago in the interest of creating friendship between the cities of York and Arles. Following the Eisenhower meeting, they visited the Cyclorama and the battlefield.

Peruvian Cabinet Quits; Military Coup Expected

By THOMAS J. STONE

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A military coup was reported imminent today following the resignation of the Peruvian cabinet because President Manuel Prado refused to how to the armed forces' demands that he nullify the June 10 national elections.

Premier Carlos Monreyra Paz Soldan and his ministers quit Monday night during a four-hour emergency meeting with Prado. Ex-Finance Minister Alex Zarak told newsmen he expected the armed forces to take power in a day or two.

OPPOSE TORRE

Word of the Cabinet resignation was received calmly in Lima. The rest of Peru also was reported quiet. Prado went from the Cabinet meeting to a party in his honor given by the diplomatic corps.

The military chiefs have demanded nullification of the national elections in a move to block the possible election to the presidency of Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, candidate of the Popular Revolutionary Alliance-APRA.

Long hated by the military, Haya de la Torre was high man in the presidential balloting on a leftist but avowedly anti-Communist ticket. He failed, however, to get the one-third of the total vote required for election.

Under the constitution, the new Congress, scheduled to convene July 28, is to choose a president from among the three leading men in the presidential race. The military has charged Haya de la Torre got his big vote through fraud.

Fiery Crash In Turnpike Tunnel Kills Fla. Couple

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — An elderly Florida couple was injured fatally Monday in a fiery crash inside the Laurel Hill Tunnel on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, about 10 miles west of Somerset.

Thirty-eight other persons occupying cars in the tunnel at the time of the crash were sent to Somerset Community Hospital, most of them with smoke inhalation. A hospital spokesman said none of the 26 detained was in serious condition.

State police reported witnesses said an auto driven by Mrs. Maude Brunsvold, 75, of Tampa hit the right wall of the tunnel and veered into the oncoming truck's path. The wreckage caught fire and filled the tunnel with smoke.

The officers were identified as Sgt. Charles Rogish, Cpl. Ralph Blomgren and Troopers Charles W. Ross and Joseph Perechinsky.

Firemen wearing gas masks extinguished the blaze in the tunnel. Somerset Fire Chief Newton Picking said 25 cars were towed from the tunnel's east portal and state police said an undetermined number were pulled from the west portal.

The tunnel was closed for about 3 1/2 hours and police said traffic was backed up five miles east of the tunnel and 10 miles to the west.

REV. C. E. HELD RESIGNS FROM TWO CHURCHES

The Rev. Charles E. Held, 72, 945 Highland Ave., for the last 16 years pastor of the Mt. Joy and Harney Lutheran Churches, announced to his congregations on Sunday that he will retire September 1.

It was a move that the Rev. Mr. Held had considered for many months but had delayed as long as he felt he should "because the people have been so good to me" and because he would have liked to continue in that position for a long time to come. His health dictated the change.

One of the best known clergymen in Adams County, Rev. Mr. Held has found time to serve his community and the county through many organizations and in appointive positions.

MANY PUBLIC SERVICES

His list of responsibilities in the last few years have included executive secretary and campaign manager for the Adams County Heart Association which he helped to found, chairman of the Adams County Chapter of the Red Cross, member of the Adams County Public Assistance Board and its chairman for some time, one of the organizers and a director of the Adams County Council of Community Services and several times county chairman for the observance of United Nations Week.

Last May 18, the Rev. Mr. Held marked the 40th anniversary of his ordination as a Lutheran minister. The service took place in Northumberland under what was then the Susquehanna Synod. He is a native of Armstrong County and was reared on his father's farm there. He came to Gettysburg first in 1907 as a student at the former Gettysburg Academy and then he went to Clarion Normal School for two years before teaching for five years in Armstrong County. The next five years he was a missionary to the Cherokee Indians of western New York for the American Sunday School Union. Then he went to Susquehanna University where he graduated from the seminary in 1922.

Churches Have Grown

Ordained that year his first church was at Millville, near Bloomsburg, where he formed a friendship with the Rev. Dr. Norman Wolf, then of Bloomsburg and now of Gettysburg, that has lasted through the years. After three years at Millville, he went to Pittsburgh for three years and then to Warren, O., where he served his largest church until ill health and surgery interrupted.

The succeeding charges were at Sagamore, Pa., Homer City and Woodbury in Bedford County for three years immediately before coming to Mt. Joy charge in 1946. Both churches of the charge have grown during his pastorate and the Easter services this year were the largest ever at both churches. Mt. Joy has 200 members and the Harney church about 350.

He has served on many church bodies and was a delegate to two conventions of the United Lutheran Church, in 1918 in Washington, D. C., and again in 1954 at Toronto, Canada.

Funeral Rites Held For Mrs. Stallsmith

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna M. Stallsmith, 314 N. Stratton St., who died Sunday afternoon, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with the Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser officiating. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Dr. Edwin Freed, Rev. George Birk, Donald Walter, Richard, James and Michael Codori.

MRS. FRANTZ DIES

Mrs. Leora B. Frantz, Phoebe Home, Allentown, mother of the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, pastor of the Arendtsville Charge, United Church of Christ, died Monday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the home at the age of 84. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Wesley G. Weikert, 88, well-known retired jeweler in Littlestown, died on Monday at 5:30 p.m. at Pape's Convalescent Home.

Mr. Weikert had been a jeweler in the community for 56 years and had retired due to ill health a number of years ago.

A son of the late Andrew and Sarah (Monshour) Weikert, his wife, Mrs. Dora (Wolfe) Weikert, died December 7, 1953.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. David A. Tawney, 118 W. Middle St.; one granddaughter, Mrs. Clair I. Sterner, Gettysburg, and one brother, Samuel D. Weikert, 241 Steinwehr Ave.

Mr. Weikert was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church and Sunday School, Littlestown, where he was a former teacher and treasurer. He was a member of Sylvania Lodge No. 613, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and Washington Camp, Patriotic Order Sons of America, both of Littlestown, and the Sons of Union Veterans, Gettysburg.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown. His pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns, will officiate. Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg. Friends may call at the funeral home on Wednesday evening.

RED-EQUIPPED ALGERIA ARMY IS POWER ACE

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
ALGIERS (AP)—Algeria's Communist-equipped regular army is the ace in the gamble for power by dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

It is an army of 45,000 tough, well-trained and determined men with something like a guilty conscience. It won its war of independence without ever fighting a real battle.

Unlike the underground resistance fighters in Algeria's cities, and the guerrilla soldiers who battled the French in the interior, the regular army spent the seven and a half years of war in neighboring Tunisia and Morocco, waiting to go into action.

BIG REDS HELPED

Apart from sporadic attacks on the electrified French defense lines along Algeria's eastern and western borders, the action never came.

While they waited and trained, their chief of staff, Col. Houari Boumedienne, organized them into Communist-style shock troops, complete with political commissars and lectures on the evils of colonialism.

Red China, the Soviet Union and other Communist countries sent money, arms and equipment. It was the guerrillas of the wilayas—zones—of the interior, fighting with knives and explosives or with arms captured from the enemy who were down the French resistance and sacrificed their lives to win independence.

IGNORED BEN KHEDDA

On the eve of independence, Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda accused Boumedienne of plotting to use the army to set up a military dictatorship in the new state. Boumedienne was fired and the general staff dissolved, but the army ignored Ben Khedda and continued to obey Boumedienne's orders.

Ben Bella, advocating a speedy socialist revolution for Algeria and dependence on the Communist world rather than the West, fled from Tunis, accused Ben Khedda of heading an illegal regime and joined forces with Boumedienne and his army.

Ben Khedda's government then asked the French authorities to hold the electrified barriers and keep the rebellious army out of the country at least until the new regime was firmly installed. The French refused, pointing out that the Evian cease-fire accords call for the frontiers to be opened immediately after the July 1 self-determination referendum.

Weather

Extended forecasts for today through Saturday, July 21:

Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Southern New York—Temperatures are expected to average five degrees or more below normal. It will turn cooler at the beginning of the period and remain that way throughout. Precipitation may total two to six-tenths of an inch in most areas but more in southern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. There will be showers mostly in southern areas Tuesday and in most areas Friday and on Saturday.

Middle Atlantic States—Temperatures will average 3 to 4 degrees below normal. It will be cool through Thursday and warmer on Saturday. Precipitation should average about a quarter inch with shower and thunderstorms Friday or Saturday.

The sun loses four million tons of mass per second, but it is so enormous that its fuel should last for several billion more years.

Letter To The Editor

July 14, 1962
Letter to the Editor
Dear Sir:

Sometimes the "new economics" of the New Frontier are hard for ordinary citizens to comprehend. President Kennedy is asking Congress to reduce taxes next year while he increases spending. That will take an economic miracle.

The national debt has risen every month since President Kennedy took office. It will continue to rise every month he serves. So will the interest. Because of this year's Kennedy spending orgy, interest on the national debt for 1963 will soar to $9.4 billion. Congress must raise that money next year by taxation. But this is a Congressional election year, so the President is trying to lure voters with promises of tax cuts.

That is like saying that if you spend more money every month than you earn, the way to solve the problem is to ask the boss to cut your pay.

Respectfully,

Missioner Stabbed To Death In Africa

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—The Secretary of the Eastern Menonite Board of Missions says he has been informed that Merlin Grove, 33, of Markham, Ont., was stabbed to death at a mission in Africa.

Paul N. Kraybill, secretary, said Monday he had received a cablegram from Somalia where Grove and his wife have been stationed two years.

The wire said Grove was killed and his wife seriously wounded while they were registering a group of students for classes at the mission in Mogadiscio.

The cable gave no reason for the attack.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Taylor Fibre Co. a plastics maker with plants here and at La Verne, Calif., has changed its name to Taylor Corp., effective Sept. 1. President Edward H. DaCosta said Monday the new name would "better reflect the broad range of our products."

Vandals Active In Town Overnight

A wave of vandalism struck the borough overnight.

Eugene Reedy, N. Washington St., reported to borough police this morning at 6:15 o'clock that during the night someone had broken the radio antenna off his car while it was parked near his home. He said that similar antennae had been removed from "about seven other cars along N. Washington St."

At 8:15 o'clock this morning Donald Ullrich reported to police that the antenna had been removed from his car while it was parked overnight on N. Washington St.

At 10 o'clock this morning Harry Mort, 221 E. Middle St., reported to police that someone had fired a shot, apparently from a .22 caliber rifle, which passed through the door of his garage and broke the windshield of his wife's car parked in the garage.

World Briefs

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—Billy Bowlegs, a Seminole weather prophet, saw a rat build its nest atop an oak log. He foresees a bad hurricane season ahead.

The Indian, who says he is 100, explains rats usually nest inside logs. But "when they build them on top, watch out."

He could be right. In 1947, on the same basis, he forecast a bad season. A hurricane smacked Florida.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Barbara Stanwyck cut her hand doing a drunk scene for a television film Monday.

The script called for her to brush a glass off a bar. Instead, the studio reported, the actress slammed her fist down on the glass, shattering it.

A doctor removed glass from three cuts in Miss Stanwyck's hand, covered it with a flesh-colored dressing and she went back to work.

A spokesman for Four Star productions said the injury scene will remain in the show, "Special Assignment."

LINCOLNTON, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. Paul Sain is a 121-pound housewife who got tired of her truck driver husband being away from home. So she went along for the ride.

Mrs. Sain relieves her husband on long hauls in his tractor-trailer to New York, New Jersey and Atlanta.

The Sains have a 10-year-old daughter. Her ambition is to be a truck driver.

VERONA, Italy (AP)—A Pennsylvania man was killed Monday when his motor scooter and one driven by a friend collided as they passed a truck. He was identified as Daniel G. Solit, 24, of Cheltenham, Montgomery County. Jerome Kosoy, a native of Philadelphia, was injured. They reportedly were on a summer tour of Europe.

BERLIN (AP)—A border guard and a customs official from East Germany have escaped to the West in the past 24 hours, West Berlin police reported today.

JERUSALEM (AP)—Jordan and Israel have decided to establish a joint border committee to seek ways of preventing further frontier incidents, an Israeli official reported today.

GLOUCESTER, England (AP)—Dr. Wilfred Askwith, 72, Anglican bishop of Gloucester, died Monday night after a long illness.

COUNTY JAIL

Charles Holland, 25, York Springs, has been committed to the county jail on charges of malicious mischief to property and surety of the peace before Justice of the Peace Donald Krepps, McSherrystown. No details on the case were available today.

FILL DRAFT CALL

The local draft board reports that it has filled its August Selective Service call with three volunteers. The call is for August 6. There has been no call for physical examination.

ANGEL HURLER WHIPS POLIO TO WIN AGAIN

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Left-hander Ted Bowsfield of the Los Angeles Angels was warming up for a game against Boston here the night of May 30 when he made a frightening discovery.

He couldn't throw the ball hard enough to get it to his catcher.

Bowsfield didn't start the game but there was no apparent cause for real alarm. It looked like just another sore arm.

DISCOVERS POLIO

Monday Bowsfield explained the trouble:

He had polio. The club naturally didn't say so, but there was a chance Bowsfield might never have pitched again, even though he had only a mild form of the disease.

Bowsfield's left arm was so weak he couldn't lift a three-pound weight. The disease, doctors said, had caused a collapse of the muscles high in the back of his arm.

SALK SHOTS

Dr. Robert Woods, the club physician, said it might have been much worse if Bowsfield hadn't had Salk antipolio shots.

He underwent a series of electrical shock treatments, but for a while it didn't look as though they were doing much good. Bowsfield tried to play catch one night, and couldn't throw the ball 20 feet.

"But my arm got a little stronger every day," he said, "and before long I was able to throw the ball from the outfield to the infield."

COMES ON

Ted didn't pitch again until June 20, when he started a game at Kansas City.

Bowsfield's recovery looked even more complete after his next few starts. He ran his winning streak to four games—beating the New York Yankees twice in the process—before taking a loss Monday as the Angels were beaten 4-1 by Washington.

"I think I've got this thing whipped," he said.

DILWORTH RAPS SCRANTON TIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Richard Dilworth, Democratic nominee for governor, charges that "the real money crowd" behind his Republican opponent, William W. Scranton, is trying to give the state "its most reactionary government since 1937."

Dilworth told 145 union officials last night he would wage a no-holds-barred campaign.

He repeatedly criticized the Scranton family for what he called its "baronial control" of Lackawanna County.

RAPS BACKGROUND

"When you look at what his family has taken out of the county and look at the condition of the county, you get a good picture of the background of the candidate," he said.

"He's passing himself off as a farmer, but he's as much of a farmer as the Duke of Edinburgh."

He said Scranton opposed civil service for state police because "he wants to run the state police like the coal and iron police of the Scranton family."

U. S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, as well as Dilworth, told the audience that both faced a "very tight election." Clark recalled the small margin by which he won his last election.

WILL BROADEN MONT ALTO'S CAMPUS WORK

UNIVERSITY PARK—The academic program at the Mont Alto campus of the Pennsylvania State University will be broadened in 1963 to include several two-year curriculums leading to the associate degree as well as the Freshman year of some of the four-year programs offered by the university.

This change was announced today by Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of the university, who also announced the appointment of Henry H. Chisman, professor of forestry, as the new director of the Mont Alto campus. Professor Chisman will begin his residence duties there next summer.

The change will make the Mont Alto campus, located in Franklin County, north of Waynesboro, the 14th commonwealth campus of the university, points out Kenneth L. Holderman, co-ordinator of commonwealth campuses. He explains that it will be administered as an integral part of the university in the same way that the other commonwealth campuses are operated.

A two-year curriculum in forest technology, now in the planning stages, is expected to be offered at the Mont Alto campus and the two-year programs in surveying technology and in drafting and design technology are also included in the plans for Mont Alto. The new program in forest technology will be designed for the training of forest technicians for employment by industry and governmental agencies.

The forest management and wood utilization programs of the School of Forestry, which lead to the Bachelor of Science degrees, will continue to be conducted on the campus at University Park although some of the students enrolled in these curriculums may be among the Freshmen who will be at the Mont Alto campus.

Dr. Peter W. Fletcher, director of the School of Forestry, points out that the first year of a new baccalaureate curriculum in forestry may now be taken at University Park or at any accredited college institution or commonwealth campus offering acceptable basic educational courses.

WILL REQUIRE BOARD EXAMS

UNIVERSITY PARK — College Entrance Examination Board test scores will be required of all applicants for admission to the Pennsylvania State University, effective with the Freshman class of September, 1963.

University President Eric A. Walker said today that mounting pressures made the adoption of a single standard of admission mandatory.

There will be no exception to the rule, President Walker noted in explaining that for the past two years the so-called "College Boards" had not been required of applicants who ranked in the top 20 per cent of their high school graduating classes.

The transition to "College Boards" has been a gradual process at Penn State where prior to World War II admissions were based on a combination of high school rank, university-originated examination and the high school principal's recommendation.

"College Boards" were first adopted when out-of-state applicants increased sharply in number in 1955. A year later, in 1956, Pennsylvanians in the lower 40 per cent of their high school classes were required to take these tests.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon has been certified as the Republican candidate for governor of California.

Secretary of State Frank M. J. J. gave him a certificate Monday after Nixon turned in a statement of his personal campaign expenses, saying he had spent $1,056. His campaign committee previously reported expenses of more than $500,000 in the primary race.

9 MINISTERS FIRED MONDAY BY MACMILLAN

By DENNIS NEELD

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan came under fire from his political foes and some friends today for his drastic reshaping of Britain's Conservative government.

Other supporters concluded that the major surgery had been necessary because of the obvious public dissatisfaction expressed in recent interim elections.

Nine more ministers, four with Cabinet rank, were fired Monday, bringing the total of top-rank dismissals since Friday to 16. Most of their replacements were younger men from the legislative rank and file.

"The prime minister has done himself enormous harm by this," said a Conservative peer, Lord Lambton, on a television program Monday night. "If you get rid of your closest lieutenants, there must be something wrong with the leadership."

Newspapers normally loyal to the Conservatives gave the reshuffle a cautious "wait and see" reception.

The Daily Mail saluted Macmillan for a high degree of political courage. It conceded the ruling party had been "shaken to the core," but said "the rot had gone deep and called for major surgery." It warned Macmillan the British people will be impatient for results.

DEMAND OUSTER

From his political foes there were expectable demands that Macmillan himself should be the next to go.

"Macmillan's day is over and no Stalin-style purge of his old colleagues can conceal the fact," declared Liberal party leader Jo Grimond.

BATTLE LINES DRAWN TIGHT ON MEDICARE

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Battle forces were closely drawn for a Senate vote today on whether to kill the administration's compromise health care plan for the elderly. Both sides cautiously predicted victory.

The outcome could be crucial to the future of President Kennedy's legislative program.

If Kennedy wins this test, his lieutenants will benefit by the psychology of that victory in their efforts to rally support for other major segments of his program.

COULD BE ROUT

A Senate defeat, stacked on top of House rebuffs on other issues, could put the administration to rout.

Rearguard action probably could save the President's House-passed trade program and salvage some other measures of lesser importance.

But rejection of the health program would be certain to whet the opposition knives for any aid to education legislation, for any farm bill satisfactory to the administration and for its tax revision measure.

A scheduled midafternoon vote on a motion to kill the health plan amendment to a House-passed bill, to revise the public assistance program appeared likely to turn on the point of which side has the fewer absentees.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he believes there is a majority for the motion to kill. Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, predicted the administration would win by two votes "if we can get all of our members here."

Whatever the result of today's voting, the administration's compromise plan—which would fund hospital and nursing home care for the elderly through Social Security taxes—faces a doubtful future in Congress.

A Senate defeat would bury it for this session. A Senate victory would keep alive the administration's hopes of getting some kind of vote on the proposal in a House that has not shown itself disposed to act on the issue.

EDITORS FIND RED PREMIER VERY LIVELY

By CREED C. BLACK

MOSCOW (AP)—For a 68-year-old man who has had a busy summer, Premier Khrushchev still conducts a lively interview.

In 2½ hours with our group of American editors, he did give indication of being tired, as recent reports have said. He yawned occasionally, rubbed his eyes and spoke softly and slowly much of the time.

But it was his son-in-law (Alekssei I. Adzhubei), the editor of Izvestia, not Khrushchev himself, who ended the interview. And along the way, the world's No. 1 Communist demonstrated a tough mind, a sharp tongue and a wide range of news, running from merriment to excited irritation in talking about everything from global rockets to chiving gum.

LOOKED FIT

Khrushchev looked fit, though a bit older than I expected, when he received us in a conference room in the Kremlin last Friday afternoon. He wore a light gray suit, cut in the Italian style.

After individual introductions, he noted the photographers waiting for group pictures and jokingly asked who was willing to stand by him.

Then he moved to a gap between Lee Hills, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, and me and continued his banter.

"Now the photographers will take command and we'll have some democracy," he said.

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill had a good night's rest, Middlesex Hospital sources said today.

A medical bulletin Monday said his progress of recovery was satisfactory and he was allowed up from bed to spend some time in a chair. No further bulletin is to be issued until Friday unless there is an important change in his condition.

Khrushchev Boasts Reds "Can Hit Fly In Outer Space;" Cites Sure Defense

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev says the Soviet Union has a global rocket that can "hit a fly in outer space" and cannot be destroyed by "any antirocket means."

Khrushchev made the claim near the end of a 2½-hour interview with 13 American editors during which he also stressed that West Berlin is the crux of the East-West dispute and must be settled by getting Western troops out of the city. He set no new deadline for their exit.

"I am not boasting," Khrushchev told the editors in his Kremlin conference room, "but we actually have a global rocket which cannot be destroyed by any antirocket means, and I know, if anyone does, what antirocket means are, because we do have them."

37 MINUTES ON BERLIN

"The high-altitude explosion carried out by the United States will in no way interfere with the action of our global rocket," he declared.

Khrushchev spent 37 minutes emphasizing the importance of the Berlin issue, accusing the Western powers of clinging to West Berlin as a military bridgehead.

"As long as the occupation forces of the U.S., Britain and France remain in West Berlin, they will play the role of an irritant which will raise the temperature in the relations between states," he declared.

THREATENS TREATY

If the Western troops depart, Khrushchev said, the Soviet Union is willing to join the Allies in a pledge of noninterference with West Berlin life, a guarantee to be "sealed with the seal of the United Nations."

He threatened anew to sign a of the blood—and his doctors say he has only a few months to live.

Israeli authorities refused to let Soblen stay in Israel and on July 1 put him aboard a chartered airliner bound for New York via Athens and London. With him were an Israeli doctor and U.S. Marshal James McShane.

The judges will decide whether to continue a writ of habeas corpus Soblen's lawyers obtained in a lower court. The British government contends he landed in Britain without permission and has to leave when recovered from the suicide attempt.

If Soblen is freed, he could leave for any foreign port. The espionage charge against him is not extraditable under the extradition treaty between Britain and the United States.

Presumably, however, only a Communist country would accept him since he does not have a valid passport. He made the flight to Israel on a dead brother's Canadian passport.

A move the Russians claim would end Western rights in West Berlin.

"When shall we do it?" he asked. "We shall not hurry, but neither shall we tarry. I will not

REJECT TALK PROPOSAL

Khrushchev repeated his demand that the Western powers agree to a peace treaty with all Germany and leave West Berlin a free, demilitarized city.

"If this question were settled," he said, "we would remove the main obstacle which stands in the way of relaxation of tension and sets us at loggerheads with the U.S., Britain and France."

The interview was released the same day the Soviet Union rejected a U.S.-British-French proposal that four power talks be called in Berlin to try to ease tension caused by shootings along the dividing wall.

The premier said the Soviet Union found it necessary to renew nuclear testing last fall because the "U.S. inflated the atmosphere around West Berlin." He denied that the Soviet Union had broken the test moratorium, insisting the fall series was in reply to American tests that preceded the moratorium.

Waste Steam Plan Faces Fight Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to generate electricity from by-product steam to be produced at a Hanford, Wash., nuclear reactor faces a scrap today in the House.

The argument centers on a proposal to authorize nonfederal generation of 800,000 kilowatts of energy from waste steam at the weapons plutonium producing reactor now under construction.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt, R-Pa., an opposition leader last year, said he was again determined to fight the proposal. He said Congress should have more time to study the plan which he contends has "serious defects."

Ready for introduction was legislation approved by the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee to allow the Atomic Energy Commission and Bonneville Power Administration to make contracts with a group of public utility districts to carry out the plan.

Says Pa. Surplus Has Political Aim

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The state's $16.5 million surplus announced by Democratic Gov. Lawrence looks like an election year surplus, says Congressman William W. Scranton, the Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Scranton said Monday: "This appears to be an election year surplus, including a payment of $4.7 million in back taxes by American Telephone and Telegraph, considerable lapsing of funds, and stepping up in the collection of taxes."

He said he did not know the state's financial condition until the surplus was announced last week. "I am a little concerned about what is going to happen in the next quarter, and the next after that," he added.

firemen's carnival at the Recreation Park. Kenneth Dengler, chairman of the board, added, "There isn't a better fire company in the nation, but there are problems we ought to work out."

One of them was expressed by Raffenberger: "It seems wasteful to spend a lot of money each fall and spring to seek to grow grass and then in one week the festival ruins it. The grass problem was described as not so much the area where the festival is held, but where the parking takes place. Dengler raised the question of the streets surrounding the Recreation Field or the parking lots at the bank and A&P store might not be used instead of the grass plots on the Recreation Field."

Whether the recreation board was right this year in cancelling the recreation program entirely during the week of the firemen's festival was reviewed. The board agreed in general that it had been correct in cancelling the program for the period.

A problem brought about by the festival was discussed by Raffenberger who told the group, "The language used by some of the men who put up the rides was in some cases not what I would want my children to hear and some messed up the toilets, got grease over everything." He said he was not referring to firemen but to the roustabouts who brought in the rides.

Raffenberger also suggested that the board hire "a part-time secretary" to man the office during the absence of the recreation director, make up stencils for bulletins that could be issued and otherwise free the director for "other and more useful duties."

"JUNIOR CHAMP" PLANS
Plans for the "Junior Champ" program in cooperation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce were announced. During the week of July 30 all of the recreation areas will take part in preliminary competition to select the contestants for the Junior Champ tournament August 9. The Keefeauver playground, because of the availability of the high school track, will be the center to which the other playgrounds will come for the Junior Champ eliminations.

Raffenberger said the program this year does away with the football throw and several other events and replaces them with events more in line with regular track and field competition in the schools including the shot-put and 880-yard run.

Bills totaling $1,986.08 were approved for payment.

Much interest was reported shown in a "golf" event being held on all the major playgrounds. A hole is placed with up to six approaches. A tennis ball is used instead of a golf ball and hockey sticks replace golf sticks. The board authorized purchase of six additional hockey sticks for the event.

REV. C. E. HELD

Washington County and they married in 1915. She was an eighth grade teacher in an Armstrong County school where he was principal when they met for the first time. Mrs. Held died suddenly last year.

The retiring pastor has been a member of the Sons of Union Veterans here since 1947 and joined the local Lions the same year. He had been a Lions regional director in western Pennsylvania before coming here. He has been a director of the local club for two terms and its only U.N. chairman.

This month he ended nine years as a director of the Red Cross chapter here and was chapter chairman 2½ years. He has been on the county assistance board for seven years. In 1960 he served as chairman of the Adams County White House Conference Committee and went to Washington for the conference in 1961.

FIRST ON WGET

He helped organize the county Heart Association in 1949 and has raised over $50,000 for the organization as chairman of all its fund drives since. He supervised the society's rheumatic fever program and handled distribution of heart beds and sick room supplies.

He was the first minister to conduct morning devotions on WGET and continued in that role until the county Ministerium took over the responsibility.

A grandfather several times he will go to Ohio to perform a wedding ceremony for a grandson next month.

The Rev. Mr. Held is the father of three sons and two daughters. The eldest is Mrs. Robert Harmon, Chagrin Falls, O. Miss LeOra Held, who is a York teacher and resides here with her father, Wilbert, graduate of Slippery Rock State College who was doing master's work at Western Reserve when he was fatally hurt in an auto crash 15 years ago; John T. Held, member of the Gettysburg College faculty and former Gettysburg High School teacher, and C. Robert Held, a professor of Greek and Latin at Gettysburg College, are the others.

"Carousel" Opens On Allenberry Stage

The love story of Julie Jordan and Billy Bigelow opened on the Allenberry stage Monday. This Rodgers and Hammerstein spectacular will run for the next two weeks, with John Stratton returning after a year's absence to portray the role of Billy Bigelow, while Kathleen Murray will play opposite him as Julie Jordan.

This is the show that includes the Richard Rodgers tunes "If I Loved You," "June Is Busting Out All Over," and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

In addition to the leading roles Richard North Gage has called on the talents of many area residents to fill out his cast. David Brubaker and Alan Coutts from Carlisle, Margetta Hamme, Glen Rock, William Lutz, New Cumberland, and Ted Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert, of Gettysburg, are in the chorus.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Postal authorities have been told to destroy 4,500 pieces of mail containing Haitian sweepstakes tickets. The order was handed down Monday by U.S. District Judge Francis L. Van Dusen after he was told that each envelope, postmarked in the United States contained five $2 tickets for a race to be held in September at Laurel, Md.

Due to the inclement weather, the Littlestown Girls 4-H Home Economics Club did not meet on Monday afternoon. The club will meet at 1:30 p.m. July 23 in St. John's Church grove. Each member is asked to bring a slice of bread along to the meeting.

Encounter With Snake: On Sunday, Squire S. S. W. Hammers, Highland Township, took a stroll over Kerr's hill and he had a stout hickory club with him. The raspberries finally tempted the Squire and he stopped at a bush and was helping himself when a blacksnake shot up its head out of the bush and quick as a flash the Squire swung his hickory club and it caught and killed the snake, which measured 7 feet 8 inches in length.

Farewell Service: A farewell service was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Arnold in St. James Chapel on Sunday evening. They sail July 4th for Liberia, Africa. Addresses at the service were made by Rev. L. B. Wolf, Baltimore; Dr. J. A. Singmaster and Dr. Luther Kuhlman, and brief talks were made by Mrs. L. L. Sieber, Mrs. J. B. Baker and Rev. Arnold. An offering amounting to $50.72 was presented to the departing missionaries. Mrs. Arnold is the former Flo Blocher.

Gold Miner: Frank M. Menchey, the youngest son of John A. Menchey, Esq. of this place has gone from Los Angeles, Cal., with others, to Alaska, to wash out gold. Certain lots have been purchased for this purpose.

What Makes A Woman? One hundred and twenty pounds more or less of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put it into health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50 cents. Guaranteed by Peoples Drug Store.

Cement Pavements: The Borough has completed the cement pavement in the southwest corner of the square. They propose to go forward with the laying of the southeast corner, the survey for same having been completed. All preparations have been made to begin work on the cement pavement at St. James church and the completion of same on York and Stratton Sts. will make a fine setting for the handsome new church. A cement pavement has been put down along the Presbyterian church on High St. to end of church property and presents a fine appearance. The Presbyterian parsonage has been given a coat of paint. These improvements have been the generous gift of Col. E. B. Cope. In view of the near approach of 1913 some friend or friends of the church should continue the cement pavement on Baltimore street frontage. One of the most marked improvements will be the cement pavement in front of Spangler property from Kimple Liquor Store on Baltimore St. to square and then to Danner property.

Persons: Sylvester M. Smith, the Bonneville huckster, is undergoing treatment in a Baltimore Hospital.

C. E. Rice, the Guernsey fruit grower, picked 11 1/2 bushels from one tree. His cherry crop was worth over $100.

A horse of Wallace Hershey fell into the cement water trough at the farm of W. H. Stock in Mt. Pleasant Twp. and was helped out without serious injury.

S. K. Sowers a year ago sold his warehouse in Abbottstown for $2,500 to George Hull and bought back recently for $1,500 and has bought an auto to deliver goods.

Calvin Gise of East Berlin reaching into the feed box came into contact with a three foot garter snake and the result was one less snake.

George Greeger of near Carlisle was fined $25 for tearing down a measles placard from a house.

Today's Talk*SOMEBODY TO YOURSELF

Fame and fortune are so fickle. To be somebody in either may bring neither happiness nor satisfaction.

After all we are the happiest and most content, most satisfied with ourselves when we have the consciousness that we have performed well toward ourselves.

To be somebody to yourself is not a small achievement. We spend all of our time with ourselves. Therefore we should at least built up something of interest and profit out of which we may draw at will something well worthwhile.

The man or woman with his or self-respect still intact needs no other introduction in any place or at any time.

You cannot be kind or sympathetic to anyone else without having kindness and sympathy as a part of yourself. We give out only of what we are!

To be somebody to yourself is to demonstrate first of all your own appreciation of life and opportunity given you to make life real and splendid for others. Even when life seems hard for you — as it is at times for us all — if you are somebody to yourself, you are bound to win the fray.

And this winning business is largely made up of what we gain for ourselves in confidence and faith.

All compelling personalities have "that something" within them, or about them, which instantly attracts, holds, and inspires. They feel that they are somebody to themselves.

I wonder what any of us would amount to, anyway, if we didn't have this feeling within us? Isn't it, in fact, the great gift to the human soul?

In Eastern League

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Eastern League attendance shows an increase of 47,257 over a year ago at this same date. President Rankin Johnson reported today. The 1962 total at the All-Star game break in the schedule is 250,178 against 202,921 at the same time in 1961, Johnson reported.

The season's totals by cities: Binghamton 52,449, Elmira 46,886, Springfield 44,732, York 40,547, Williamsport 40,396, Charleston 25,168.

ACID CONTENT UP
HARRISBURG (AP)—The acid content of the drought-drained waters on the north branch of the Susquehanna River is increasing, chemical tests show.

Chemical firms in the Danville area reported a pH reading of 4.8. A reading of 7 is neutral. Anything below that is acidulous; above that mark is alkaline.

RECORD HIGH

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal incomes of Americans and the nation's industrial production advanced in June to record highs.

But the income gains were only half as great as in the previous month. Industrial production rose so slightly as to remain almost on dead center.

The two key economic indicators—expected to be scrutinized closely by President Kennedy as he considers seeking an economy-spurring tax cut this year—were disclosed Monday.

The Commerce Department said personal incomes rose $700 million in June to a record annual rate of $440.4 billion, an increase of $24 billion over June 1961. But the increase was only about half as big as the one registered in May and was substantially smaller than the advances made earlier this year.

The Federal Reserve Board said that industrial production in June struggled upward to a record 117.8 per cent of the 1957 level compared with 117.5 per cent in May. Some economists expressed surprise that it hadn't declined in the face of the stock market plunge and a strike which cut sharply into auto production.

The increase was less than half that recorded in May, and was so small the board said: "Most measures of business activity changed little in June."

LOGAN HERO FOR PIRATES

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Johnny Logan of the Pittsburgh Pirates is a utility infielder—a breed of player not usually in the lime-light.

Today, Johnny Logan is a Pirate hero.

Logan, filling in at third base for the injured Don Hoak, hit a bases loaded home run Monday night in the Pirates' 5-2 victory over St. Louis.

How does he feel?
"Excellent real, real good," Logan said. "The victory makes it more binding you know."

Recounting his first extra base hit of the season and his first home run since he was a Milwaukee Brave in 1960, Logan said: "I hit a high fast ball away from me I was just trying for a single because there were two men out. I think I surprised the fans. I was surprised myself."

The 35-year-old Logan has not always been a utility player. He was the number one shortstop for the old Boston Braves in 1952 and played the position regularly for Milwaukee from 1953 through 1960. He appeared in the 1955 and 1958 All-Star games.

STARS DEFEAT
GRAYS 5 TO 2

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — The pick of the Class A Eastern League team off against the league leading Williamsport Grays Monday night in the 9th annual All-Star game and wrapped it up in the second inning for a 5-2 victory.

In the big second inning, the All-Stars pounded out five base hits, four for extra bases, and scored four runs.

Binghamton's Ken Harrelson led off with a homer. The Triplets' Bill Shephard doubled and scored on Keith Williams' home run. Williams, Charleston outfielder drove in three runs with his homer, a triple and a single.

Williamsport hurler Jim Ponceroff, the loser, got the next two men, but a single by Ossie Chaverra, Binghamton infielder, and a triple by York's Jim Williams sent him to the showers.

Williamsport scored once in the seventh and once in the eighth. One run was unearned; the other came on a single by pinchhitter Dick Edwards.

The victory went to starter Sonny Siebert.

WOMAN KILLED

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP)—An 81-year-old Lancaster County woman was killed Monday when the car in which she was riding blew a tire and rammed a pole on Route 230, five miles east of Middletown.

The victim was Mrs. Catherine Staycock, Elizabethtown R. 1, Her daughter, Mrs. Barbara Dolan, 52, also Elizabethtown R. 1, was hospitalized with a fractured left arm, cuts and bruises.

The victory went to starter Sonny Siebert.

10 Prospects For Probe Prosecutor

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini of Common Pleas Court will receive today the names of 10 lawyers nominated by the Philadelphia Bar Association to serve as prosecutor in a grand jury investigation of alleged corruption in city hall.

They were selected Monday night by seven chancellors of the bar association. Officials refused to release a list of the candidates.

Earlier in the day, Alessandrini had said if there is one lawyer on the list whom he considers outstanding, he would waste no time in making a selection. However, he added that if there are several with seemingly equal abilities he may have to deliberate.

ITALIAN SHOW HAS STRIKING
NEW FASHIONS

By LOUISE HICKMAN

Associated Press Fashion Writer
FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Striking designs in heavy soft wools and wide military shoulders were the latest word today from Italy's fall and winter high fashion shows.

The messages came from Schuberth and Lancetti, who unveiled their new collections at the Pitti Palace Monday night.

Schuberth tended to blanket his new lines under a cloud of accessories—bandana-wrapped calots, neck scarves, hankies in the hand, ribbon cockades, yard-wide hats with hem-length widows' veils and two-foot hair bows.

STRIKING CLOTHES

Underneath were some striking coats, suits and dresses.

Done in heavy soft wools, they featured front and back apron patches, thick cord belts and neckline edgings and soft shirred backs.

COLOR PAIRINGS

Color pairings of orange and garnet, mustard and black, navy and gold, and brown and soft turquoise were stunning.

Soft coats and capes that were cut to jacket length in front were very special, worn over matching patch-pocketed dresses. A short sleeveless black wool sheath had a fringed floor-length apron panel that reached the ankles in front.

A full-length gown of white satin had a front apron panel of black ostrich plumes.

Lancetti did very wide military shoulders, often with epaulettes pads, on a narrow silhouette. He opened with zebra and leopard coats.

Many gowns were flat, buttoned spirals of fabric. This scroll motif was continued in exaggerated, bow-like arrangements. There were a number of jutting sleeves that looked like vacuum cleaner bags clasped tight to the wrist.

DENNISON NAMED

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Alfred Benjamin Dennison, a retired Army general and a native of Mt. Pleasant, Snyder County, Pa., has been named to the staff of the state division of industrial development and planning.

The division said Monday that he would help communities attract new industry.

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa. (AP)—Alan Wood Steel Co. reports a loss of $518,000 for the first six months of this year, compared with a loss of $74,000 during the first half of 1961.

Sales total $33.8 million against $27.6 millions in 1961.

Clemente Hit, Logan Homer Win For Surging Pirates; Giants And Braves Winners

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente thought he should have been voted the National League's most valuable player two years ago when he helped Pittsburgh win the pennant by batting .314. But Pirate shortstop Dick Groat, who won the batting title with .325, got the award.

Clemente thought he should have received the award last year when he led the league with a .351 batting average. But the Pirates finished sixth and Frank Robinson of the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds gained the honor.

So this year Clemente figures the only chance he has to win that coveted title is for him to copy the batting title again and Pittsburgh to win the pennant. Both Roberto and the Pirates are making a determined bid to do just that.

17TH WIN IN 21

With Clemente hitting safely in his 14th consecutive game, and utility infielder Johnny Logan coming through with a grand slam homer, the Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2 Monday night to inch within four games of the league leading Los Angeles Dodgers. It was Pittsburgh's 17th victory in their last 21 games.

The second place San Francisco Giants edged out the New York Mets 3-2 to narrow the Dodgers' margin to two games while the Milwaukee Braves, behind the sixth hit pitching of southpaw Bob Hendley, blanked the Cincinnati Reds 3-0.

Rain forced the postponement of a Chicago Cub-Colt game scheduled at Houston. The Dodgers and the Philadelphia Phils were not scheduled.

CLEMENTE HIT HELPED

Clemente's hit Monday figured prominently in the Pirates' winning rally. Ray Sadecki of the Cards held a 2-1 lead when Groat opened the sixth with a walk and Clemente singled. After Dick Stuart flied out, Bob Skinner walked and Logan cleaned the bases with a homer, his first extra base hit of the season. The blast enabled Al McBean to register his fourth straight and tenth victory of the season.

Stan Musial of the Cards had three for three, giving him six of the last seven.

Bob Garibaldi, San Francisco's $135,000 bonus pitcher, snuffed out a ninth inning rally by the Mets with one pitch to help the Giants win the rubber match of the three-game series.

Don Larsen, the second Giant pitcher, had walked the first two Mets in the ninth. Stu Miller came in, retired the next two batters, but gave up a run-scoring single to Richie Ashburn, cutting the Giants' lead to 3-2.

Garibaldi, the 20-year-old right-hander from Santa Clara who donned a Giant uniform for the first time Sunday, replaced Miller and induced Rod Kanehl to hit his first pitch to Willie Mays in center field to end the game.

Jack Sanford gained his 11th victory for the Giants, made possible in the top of the ninth when pinch-runner Manny Mota scored on Bob Miller's second wild pitch of the inning. Roger Craig, the starter, was charged with his 13th defeat.

Home runs by Joe Adcock and Roy McMillan supported Henley's masterful pitching, which resulted in his sixth triumph for the Braves. Both homers—McMillan's came with one on—were at the expense of Joey Jay, who had beaten the Braves five straight times since traded to the Reds last year for McMillan. It was Jay's ninth defeat. He has won 12.

Sam Teeter pitched the Elks into at least a third place finish in the league standings as his squad turned back the Glenn L. Bream team 4-1 Monday evening.

Teeter allowed four scattered hits, walked four and struck out 13 batters to gain his third win in six decisions. The 12-year-old Elks hurler and battery mate, Jim Martin, paced the winners at the plate with a pair of hits each.

The Elks scored once in the top of the third and added two more runs in the fourth on walks to Dave Teeter and Gary Waybrant and a single by Dick Warren plus the help of a Bream miscue.

The Breammen tallied in the bottom of the sixth when Brad Stahle, after reaching first on a single, was forced home on three straight walks, the last by Gary Keiholtz.

Rodney and John Bowers shared the pitching honors for the losers with Rodney getting the loss.

2 L.A. TEAMS HAVE BOOSTED CROWDS MOST

NEW YORK (AP)—A profitable three-game series against the New York Yankees last week enabled the Los Angeles Angels to surpass their entire 1961 home attendance.

The three-game set, starting Thursday, drew 137,078 to the new 56,000-seat Dodger Stadium. When the Angels played before 12,565 in Sunday's doubleheader against Washington it lifted their 1962 home attendance to 623,618.

Last season, in the 20,000-seat Wrigley Field, the Angels' final attendance was 603,510.

The Angels show the largest increase in the American League, 263,754. Other junior circuit teams ahead of last season are Cleveland (88,482), Washington (68,087) and Minnesota (12,801).

The clubs trailing their 1961 gaits are Detroit (161,639), Boston (129,643), Chicago White Sox (124,661), Kansas City (85,163), Baltimore (67,908) and New York (49,301).

The Los Angeles Dodgers have stepped up their attendance pace the most in the National League. They are 325,765 ahead of 1961. St. Louis is up 45,003. Philadelphia 30,949 and San Francisco 63,695.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are 201,247 behind 1961. Other NL clubs with deficits are Milwaukee (161,002), Chicago Cubs (154,888) and Cincinnati (47,904).

Race Crowds Good Despite Weather

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va.—Shenandoah Downs General Manager Bob Leavitt is beginning to like wet weather. At least he's wondering what his night track would be doing businesswise without the rain that drenched two successive programs.

A surprising Monday crowd of 5,089 bet $265,043 last night after rains had fallen throughout the area all day. This came on top of a Saturday handle of $469,000 put through the machines by 10,064 under identically wet conditions.

The two nights are little less than Leavitt would have hoped with ideal weather and left Shenandoah with an average nightly handle of $336,769. With good weather that is promised for the next two weeks, Shenandoah Downs can come out of its first four weeks against Delaware with an average topping of $325,000, best in its history for a similar period.

Alfred Williams' Millers Wander will seek his third straight win at the meeting tonight as Leavitt attempts to keep things rolling with the Chamber of Commerce purse heading the card at 5 1/2 furlongs. The Aldie, Va., gelding has never been better, but will find tougher competition tonight than in his winning races. Bahati, Joutets, Friendly Ellen, and Cirencester all have the necessary speed to push the pace in the dash. Cirencester, who ran with the best a few years back, has been training well for owner-trainer Shirley T. Payne, and may emerge as the favorite despite a disappointing debut here.

The twin double went 27 ways last night, with each player collecting $643.00 on the 7-2-1-9 combination.

Lucas Will Play With Pipers In ABA

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Lucas has ended the suspense. He says he's going to play full time for the Cleveland Pipers of the National Basketball Association.

Even before the three-time All-America wound up his fabulous career at Ohio State in March, a tremendous guessing game had been in progress. Lucas said he didn't want to play professionally.

Few believed him. The Pipers, then in the American Basketball League, and the NBA's Cincinnati Royals, drafted the 6-foot-8 ace.

Lucas chose the Pipers over the Royals and signed a two-year contract on May 17 for $10,000 annually, plus an investment portfolio worth another $40,000.

TOUGHER TO CATCH

Which means the Yanks not only beat those three more often, they also have more remaining with them New York has 33 games left, Los Angeles 18 and Cleveland 24 with the also-rans.

This could be indicative of a number of things, one of them being that the Yanks may be a little hard to catch.

New York used that beat-the-weak-teams formula Monday to push its lead to 3 1/2 games, beating Kansas City 3-1. Los Angeles slipped back to a tie for second with idle Cleveland when Washington's Don Rudolph threw a four-hitter and beat the Angels 4-1 in the only other American League game scheduled.

The Yankee triumph over Kansas City was their eighth in 10 games with the A's this season and their fourth straight. Kansas City now has lost six in a row.

QUICK GAME

A couple of errors by Billy Conso and Whitey Ford's pitching were the key factors as the Yanks expanded their lead to its widest margin of the season.

A Conso miscue in the second inning paved the way for two unearned New York runs, while Ford—8-5—had a five-hit shutout going into the ninth before he tired and had to have help from Jim Bouton.

Bob Johnson drove in three runs with a homer and a single in support of Rudolph's quick triumph over Los Angeles. The contest took only an hour and 32 minutes to complete, the fastest of the season and one of the fastest in recent years.

Johnson broke the scoreless duel with his solo homer in the fourth and put it out of reach with a bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Palmer's fans, sometimes called "Armie's Army," followed the Pennsylvania as he played his way through the course. He tried several approaches and several putts at each hole, stopping momentarily to dictate notes to his caddy.

He said he was happy to get back to the larger American ball and planned to get as much practice with it as possible before the tournament.

Palmer is one of 176 pros who will tee off Thursday in the National PGA Tournament. It's the one major title that has eluded him.

SOLON'S FEUD FOR PRESTIGE HOLDS UP VOTE

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two elderly Democrats are captains in one of the stuffiest disputes—it's called a battle for prestige—that ever slowed down the machinery of Congress.

For more than three months, the quarrel between these two men and the committees of which they are chairmen has prevented the House and Senate from voting on money to run the government.

While the feud drags on, government agencies are permitted under emergency regulations to go on spending this month at the rate they did in fiscal 1962, which ended June 30.

USUAL REACTION

The argument between the two groups will probably have the same effect on the general public as Patrick Henry used to have on Thomas Jefferson, who said, "Although it was difficult when he had spoken to tell what he said, yet, while he was speaking, it always seemed directly to the point."

Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, 84, has been in Congress 50 years, longer than anyone there. Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, 83, has been a member of the House 39 years.

Hayden, as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and Cannon, as chairman of its opposite number in the House, are two of the most powerful men in Congress.

GOES FAR BACK

It's the kind of power that goes away back in congressional history.

Woodrow Wilson was writing respectfully on this subject 77 years ago, "I know not how better to describe our form of government in a single phrase than by calling it a government by the chairmen of the standing committees of Congress."

The dispute over prestige in this case involves tradition, one of the most sacred areas in Congress, although anthropologists sometimes refer to tradition as tribal custom.

REVENUE BILLS

Under the Constitution, revenue bills—taxation—are to originate in the House. It does not say appropriations bills—money voted by Congress for running the government—have to originate in the House or be voted on there first.

But somehow traditionally the House has handled them first, too. The amount of money the House votes and the amount of money the Senate votes are seldom the same.

So members of the Hayden and Cannon committees must confer to reach a compromise by ironing out the differences. Then the agreed-on bill goes back to the full House and Senate for final (and formal) approval.

SENATE CONFERENCES

But also, somehow traditionally, these conferences between the two committees have been taking place on the Senate side of the Capitol with a senator acting as chairman.

This irked Cannon and his committee of the House. House members may feel a little inferior to the Senate for various reasons.

For example, House members give up their seats to run for the Senate, even though the salary is the same, $22,500.

HOUSE FEU UP

So Cannon's committee, which may have felt like peasants with a petition, got fed up with trudging over to the Senate side for a conference under the chairmanship of a senator and made demands on Hayden's committee.

They were that half the conferences must be held on the House side of the Capitol and half of them must be under the chairmanship of a House member.

But before Hayden would agree to that, he wanted a concession:

Runnels, Jimenez In Batting Duel

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Runnels, a veteran of 12 big league seasons, and rookie Manny Jimenez are waging an interesting duel for the American League batting lead.

Runnels of the Boston Red Sox increased his lead to seven points in last week's games by collecting eight hits in 23 tries while Jimenez managed only five hits in 19 attempts. Runnels gained one point to .341 and the Kansas City outfielder slumped five points to .334.

Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers held onto his slim margin in the National League. Davis remained at .353 with a 6-for-17 showing while Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, last year's titleholder, zoomed eight points to .350 with nine hits in 19 at bats.

Says Conservatives Can't Beat Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says a conservative Republican candidate wouldn't have a chance against President Kennedy in the 1964 presidential elections.

Scott, former national GOP chairman, said Sunday that either Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York or former American Motors President George Romney of Michigan is the most probable GOP presidential candidate. Romney is a candidate for governor of Michigan.

Scott, interviewed on a television program, said he wants to wait until November to make up his mind about a presidential candidate.

A WINNING RECORD

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP) — In 75 years of baseball, Colgate University teams have won 662 games, lost 459 and tied 14. The University has had only 14 baseball coaches in that span, the last three serving a 42-year period.

an end to the tradition that all money bills originate in the House. He wants half of them to originate in the Senate.

That's where the two committees got stuck and have been stuck ever since. The full houses have not been able to vote money for any government department because their appropriations committees have not sent them agreed-on bills.

The two committees and their chairmen may get unstuffed soon to let the government function as it is supposed to. Pressure is building up on them.

WRITER CALLS LOCAL SHRINE NATION'S BEST

A recent issue of the Pittsburgh Press carried the following story on Gettysburg under the byline of Sherley Uhl.

"Very possibly the most exciting thing to happen to recent visitors to the Governors' conference in Hershey was their excursion to the Gettysburg Battlefield.

"For sheer emotional wallop, Gettysburg is unsurpassed by any historical shrine anywhere in the country, with the possible exception of Independence Hall.

"In either case, Pennsylvanians who through indifference or procrastination pass up this experience should be banished to Siberia.

"The governors and their wives were among the first tourists permitted to enter the new museum and administration building at Gettysburg, an impressive structure of modern design but historic solemnity.

"Visitors are first ushered into an auditorium where they review, by sound slides, the events of July 1 through July 3, 1863. The commentary, devoid of theatrical glamor, is even understated. These events required no exaggeration.

THE CYCLORAMA

"Spectators may then inspect the Gettysburg Cyclorama — a vast circular painting executed not long after the war by the French artist, Paul Philippoteaux, and recently retouched and restored.

"Something new has been added — variable lighting and sound effects. Both are terrific.

"It is dawn on July 3, the last day of the greatest battle ever fought on the North American continent. Again the commentary is matter-of-fact, almost Edward R. Murrowism in style.

SOUND EFFECTS

"Then come the sound effects. The Park Service has authentically reproduced the sound of fury as minutely described by Civil War chroniclers. The result is stirring, to say the least.

"As the light grows brighter and the wheatfield lies golden in the sun, the rumble of distant cannon echoes. Gen. James Longstreet's Confederate artillery is opening its barrage to pave the way for Pickett's ill-starred charge.

"The cannonading grows heavier as General Meade's artillerymen reply in kind. The commentator then describes the charge in detail, using a sharp spotlight to denote landmarks on the canvas.

HALL REVERBERATES

"The cyclorama hall reverberates with cannon and rifle fire, rebel yells, shrill bugle calls.

"This is no Hollywood production. It is as realistic as imaginative science can make it. Testifying to its reality, there are few dry eyes when the presentation is over.

"In the museum below, visitors may examine Civil War weapons, relics, surgical instruments, battle gear, shot-riddled tree limbs and fence posts. On the observation deck they may view the panoramic sweep of the battlefield. "For the governors this was truly a walk into history. For an hour or so even the politicians were silenced by reverence."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

LITTLE LOVELIES. When the mercury goes up, the boiling point of busy mothers has the habit of going down. And that's the exact moment for a cooling off period!

The best cooler would be a swim, of course. But lacking the time or the facilities, try a swim in the bathtub or the backyard wading pool. Get yourself and the youngsters in suits. Let the youngsters splash about in the water, while you loll at the side and dangle your feet in the drink.

So you won't have to cope with the hot job of drying the kid's hair when the fun's over and everybody has cooled down, be sure they wear caps. Besides, water-logging is as damaging to the luster of young hair as to your own.

Incidentally, children are less likely to kick up a fuss about wearing caps, if you make them amusing. Just cut out Jack-o-Lantern eyes and mouth from waterproof plastic tape, press them on the back of a cap, and— you have an irresistible bit of headgear.

Now back to the pool. After the youngsters have had their fill of splashing, introduce several generous handfuls of soap to the water and let them swish it up into sudsy whitecaps. They will love playing in this ocean while, all unaware, they come clean.

Meantime you'll feel less like steaming. More like beaming!

CURVE FOR THE LEGLINE

If your loveliness problem is thin, shapeless legs, send for my leaflet, MORE CURVE FOR THE LEGLINE. It shows how to build up contours with spot-increasing exercise. The leaflet also includes your ideal leg measurements, and tips on a graceful stance as well as flattering footwear. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

BURNS BEGINS SERVING TERM

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Commissioner Frank J. Burns of Cambria County was in jail today on a 3-to-16-year term for embezzlement and the State Supreme Court was considering a petition for his release.

Burns' attorney, Vincent Casey of Pittsburgh, filed the petition Monday pending the outcome of an appeal.

The Supreme Court has not ruled if it will hear the appeal, but last Saturday the court issued a writ of certiorari calling for all records in the Burns case to be sent to the high court.

Burns was ordered committed Monday by Judge George W. Griffith of Cambria County after Griffith had consulted Supreme Court Justice Benjamin Jones.

Burns was convicted of embezzling $6,170 from the county home while he was superintendent of the home. He had been free on $15,500 bond.

Secret of long life, low upkeep of GAS air conditioning

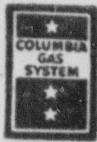

It's no secret that a simple gas flame—as dependable as the one that cooks your food—means long life with low upkeep. And this same simple flame can also cool your home, office or shop. There are no major moving parts to wear and need servicing. After all, what is there about a Gas flame to wear out?

Building a new home? Then consider a central Gas air conditioning system that both cools and heats through the same ductwork. Buying a home or remodeling your present home? Then you can easily adapt a Gas add-on cooling unit to your present forced-air Gas heating system. Either way, you can enjoy the comfort you deserve. No more sickish summertime drag and exhaustion. No more sleepless nights. Think you can't afford Gas air conditioning? Think again! It costs as little as $8.60 a month. And because there is a special low rate for Gas air conditioning, you'll find it costs very little to keep your entire home refreshingly cool.

Want all the facts? Then call your Gas Company air conditioning representative. He'll be happy to serve you.

Blanch Vegetables Before Freezing, Says Mrs. Tunison

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

Proper blanching is essential for top-quality frozen vegetables. Blanching helps to preserve flavor and to kill harmful bacteria that may cause food spoilage.

Blanching a small quantity of vegetables at one time. For one pound of prepared vegetables, use at least one gallon of boiling water; for greens, use three gallons of boiling water. If too little water is used or too much of the vegetable is added, heat may not penetrate evenly.

Uneven heating may cause part of the vegetables to be overcooked, while the rest may not reach the temperature needed to kill harmful bacteria. The result is an inferior product which may not be safe to eat, attractive to look at or pleasing to taste.

For blanching, use a kettle that fits the burner and water will begin to boil soon after adding the vegetable. If it takes more than one minute for water to return to boiling, heat less of the vegetable next time.

For more information about freezing vegetables, call or write the Agricultural and Home Economics Extension office in Court-house, Gettysburg, and ask for Circular 464, "Preparing Food For Your Freezer." A copy is free upon request.

GROOMING BEAUTY AID

Combining good grooming with homemaking jobs could be one of your best beauty aids. It's important for others to notice how well-groomed you are, but they don't need to know how you do it.

A relaxing soak in the bathtub can give you a refreshed feeling. The bathtub is a good place to plan menus and time schedules. As you relax, you may dream up an unforgettable menu or develop family recreation schemes.

Here are other ways to combine grooming and house care. Next time you shampoo and set your hair, let it dry while you prepare a meal. Put cream on your face and hands and wear cotton gloves when you vacuum or dust. Check your posture as you bend to brush your teeth, make the beds or clean the bathtub. Do stretching exercises as you reach up to place articles on top shelves of closets and cupboards.

Plan your household schedule around beauty rituals and see how rewarding it can be. Not only will you get housework done, but chances are you'll receive compliments from the family and friends.

PREVENT HOME ACCIDENTS

In 1960, 27,500 persons were fatally injured and more than four million disabled in home accidents. This makes it all the more essential that each family check its house to see if it is a safe place to live.

Faulty facilities and furnishings often cause accidents. Light bulbs that need replacing, a fragile stepstool, slippery floors or broken glass are all potential accident hazards.

Activities done in the kitchen make it the most dangerous room in the house. Kitchen utensils and tools are safe only when they are used and cared for properly. To prevent accidents, turn handles of cooking utensils away from edges of range. When using knives, cut away from the body. Sharp knives cut more easily and require less pressure than do dull knives.

Plan enough time for daily activities. By allotting enough time for a job a homemaker could eliminate the rush and disorder that may cause accidents. Homemakers observe the activities of family members and encourage members to develop safety habits. The best way to prevent home accidents is to spot hazards and remove them before they cause trouble.

SET DATES FOR DUTCH DAYS

Plans for five full days of folklore, fun and festivities are scheduled for the 14th annual original Pennsylvania Dutch Days to be held in Hershey Park on August 22-26.

Topping the list of free entertainment, according to Carl S. Swartz, president of Pennsylvania Dutch Days, Incorporated, will be the Pennsylvania State Police field exhibition to be held in Hershey Stadium beginning at 2 p.m. Thursday, August 23. There is no admission charge to this event.

Every day activities will include actual handcrafts demonstrations in the huge Sports Arena, surrounded by a fabulous display of homemade, hand-sewn, gaily colored heirloom quilts. Outdoor exhibits will include apple butter boiling, flax breaking and spinning, the village blacksmith and other outdoor phases of early American life. Included will be the agricultural displays, farm implement and wagon exhibits and the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation fete.

In the town-center social hall, a special showing of antiques will bring together 10 widely known collectors and exhibitors. Free seminars, discussions, panels and lectures will be conducted for those seeking more information about the Pennsylvania Germans. Free motion pictures and slides will also be shown.

Dutch food will be available everyday within easy walking distance of all activities.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Dwellers in the Great Smoky Mountains will long remember Charlie Garland.

They just don't build hillbillies anymore. Like Charlie, who was known in his heyday as "The Iron Man of the Mountains."

Charlie became a legend among the hill people by one feat. He bought a cookstove at a hardware store here, heisted it onto his back and carried it 29 miles across a winding stony trail to his home without once setting it down.

ANNUAL HOMECOMING

The term "hillbilly" may carry a note of ridicule in the effete cities, but here in the home of the Southern highlander it is used with an affectionate respect based on admiration for the virile qualities of the men who long ago settled in these haze-covered mountains.

The traditions of the sturdy highlanders were celebrated here over the weekend in the 10th National Hillbilly Homecoming, a regional festival that now draws spectators and participants from a 20-state area.

The community here simply turns the clock back a generation or two for three days. Long beards and black moustain hats suddenly bloom everywhere.

FISH, HUSH PUPPIES

Everyone gorges on country ham and red eye gravy, or fried fish and hush puppies, and has a fine old nostalgic gallus-snapping time. The nights ring with Elizabethan ballads, country music, and even the black bears creep down from the star-crowned hills to listen to the haunting strains of dulcimer, lute and fiddle.

But this annual festival celebrates a way of life that is passing among a people that formerly clung most stubbornly to the folklore of their forebears.

Great changes have come within less than the span of a lifetime. Their natural beauty has turned the Great Smokies into one of the nation's favorite resort areas. New roads and skeletal steel power lines have destroyed the isolation of the mountaineer and brought him civilization's boons—electric lights, air conditioning, refrigeration and television.

MOUNTAIN TALK DYING

A chronicler of these changes, Norma Wilson, who with her husband operates one of the best known restaurants in the hill country, is a bit wistful over the swiftness of the transition.

"Mountain talk is gradually dying out," she said, "but mountain people still have the good qualities inherited from their forefathers."

"They're sincere, independent, and proud, and they'll do anything for you. They stick together, and they take care of their own. Some old-timers think public welfare is ruining the mountains."

Perhaps the most striking contrast between the old and the new in mountain life is this fact: The daughter of one of the most celebrated old moonshiners recently graduated as valedictorian of her high school class.

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Bert Garner, 76, "Sage of the Great Smokies," goes barefoot seven months of the year and has proved a man can get by on $50 a year. A disciple of simple living who dwells on the farm of his birth in a two-room cabin he built 42 years ago for $87.50, the elderly philosopher spent less than 15 cents a day for meals until Uncle Sam put him on Social Security.

Now Bert varies his diet of dried corn, fresh vegetables and soybeans with an occasional restaurant meal.

SWORE OFF WORK

"I was against Social Security before, and I'm against it now," said Garner. "I don't think it's the function of the government to take care of the people—it's the duty of the people to take care of the government."

"But I guess I can't change the system single-handed."

Bert held jobs from Manhattan to California before he decided at 60 to swear off work and give up the world's foolish ways for the rest of his life.

"MORE THAN MONEY"

"I believe in simple living and high thinking," said Garner. "Freedom means more than money anytime."

"Most people never know real freedom. They have become wage slaves."

"I choose to live the way I do so I can live the way I want. Leisure is one of the great virtues in the English language. I have the leisure I want to learn and study."

50-ACRE RETREAT

His cabin in a 50-acre woodland retreat has no radio, no television, no electricity. His annual utilities bill is 38 cents—for two gallons of lamp oil.

But the cabin is stocked with a library of 2,000 books. And Bert easily spends more for magazines and newspapers than he does for food, clothing and shelter.

Garner raises 27 kinds of fruits, nut and vegetables, in his garden, says he is far too busy ever to be lonely or bored.

The world he forsook has beaten a path to Garner's door. He has had visitors from most states and from as far away as Switzerland.

"SHOOT YOUR WIFE"

One university professor, after talking to Bert, said:

"If everyone lived as thriftily as you do, it would wreck the economy of our country almost overnight."

To curious callers who ask how they can achieve happiness through simplicity, Bert replied with a smile:

"First, shoot your wife. This is no life for a married man."

NEW YORK (AP)—Marco Polo, Christopher Columbus and Daniel Boone had one thing in common.

None of them had to send back post cards from their travels saying: "Having wonderful time. Sure wish you were here."

That was a tremendous advantage. It left their minds free to enjoy their journeys.

RANKING ART FORM

The post card today has become America's most widespread art form. It outranks even the popularity of the credit card.

In some, the mere sight of a post card brings out the mute, inglorious Milton, the hidden Shakespeare. Their hands begin to shake when they see one. They are post card addicts.

They never really get to drink in the splendors of their travels. They are too busy writing from 20 to 30 post cards a day back home. They never come back with a tan from a trip to Florida or a Caribbean cruise—but they do have a fine case of writer's cramp.

FOUR CLASSES

Post cards generally fall into four classes—the lyrical, the obligatory, the humorous and the practical.

The lyrical writer is a frustrated author. Whatever he sees, he is stunned by the wonder of it all. He feels a compulsion to record his impressions in 1,000 words of lush

EARNINGS ARE REPORTED UP IN FIRST HALF

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Three out of four American corporations so far reporting earnings for the first six months did better this year than last. Together the first 200 had net incomes running 20 per cent higher than the 1961 period. And only 16 operated at a loss this year, compared with 23 a year ago.

The increased earnings also contrast, in most instances, with sharply lower prices for the companies' stocks. And dividend payments this year have been running 7 per cent above the like period of 1961. This means that stock bought at current stock prices yields considerably more than a year ago, since earnings and dividends have gained while prices fell.

But business spokesmen are quick to point out that earnings this year are being lumped to a period in 1961 when the last recession was ending, and that earnings started rising in the latter part of the year, as did stock prices.

EARLY MONTHS

Profits in the early months of 1962 were running 13 per cent below the final three months of 1961. And for many stocks the big price drops have been since the December highs, rather than from prices early in 1961.

Business spokesmen also contend that the level of profits now, although looking bright against that of a year ago, is still far from adequate to assure healthy business activities.

For several years sales totals have risen much faster than profits. This has cut profit margins to a point that many industries call dangerous. This contraction, charged to rising operating costs, in many instances, is said to chill any plans for faster expansion sought by the administration to spur the economic growth rate.

Business is renewing drives to prose so crowded you have to read it through a magnifying glass. That is in itself a nuisance, but the worst trouble with getting lyrical post cards is that when you have read one amateur description of Niagara Falls or the Grand Canyon, you've read 'em all.

The obligatory post card is written through a transparent sense of duty. It usually says something immortal, such as:

"Hi, there folks! See you in two weeks."

The humorous post card demonstrates the forced labor of remembrance. It often shows a picture in color of a snake den or a cage of monkeys. On the back is waggishly inscribed:

"How's the old office gang? Everybody up to the same old tricks?"

PRACTICAL CARD

The practical post card gets down to the bare essentials. It has a photo of a motel and a terse, hurriedly scribbled message, such as:

"Had one flat tire so far. Made 650 miles today. Should make 675 tomorrow with luck."

There is a fifth type of post card which is the most disheartening of all to get. It announces: "Lost my wallet with all my dough and identification. Stuck here. Please wire me $200 soonest. The kids and wife join me in sending you our deepest love."

Sterling Boasts Kitchen Orchestra

STERLING, Mass. (AP)—Folks who have been lucky enough to hear the Sterling (Ladies') Kitchen Band are never likely to forget the experience.

Attired in house dresses and hats of their own making, they give forth on a battery of instruments that includes the following: stove pipes, insect spray guns, vacuum cleaner hose, wash boiler covers, scrub pails, corn poppers, plumbers' plungers, knives, forks, spoons — and a percussion section including ash can covers used on wash tubs.

But their proudest possession is a six-foot tin horn used on a steamboat that cruised nearby Lake Waushacum half a century ago.

cut costs, speeding automation and trimming waste. It also is clamoring for a tax cut to sweeten net income figures.

But for the first 200 to report many for fiscal periods ending before June 30, the six months total is $681,491,000, compared with $566,901,000 in the like 1961 period.

Most corporations are yet to be heard from, and the 20 per cent gain may not be the final figure. Steel industry leaders will report later this month. Their earnings were colored by stepped up sales in the first three months by users hedging against a possible strike or price increase, and by sharply lowered production in the second quarter when customers lived off stocks as the strike and price rise threats faded.

Among leading corporations to report so far, profit gains are announced by General Electric, Firestone, General Tire, J. P. Stevens, International Harvester, Curtis Wright, Carrier, Plough, Eli Lilly and Corning Glass. Record six-months earnings are reported by International Business Machines, whose common stock was one of those hard hit in the market break.

Meat packers reporting gains include Armour, Swift, Morrell, Wilson, Hormel. On the lower side was Cudahy. Shoe companies increasing profits include: U.S. Shoe, Endicott Johnson, International Shoe, Brown Shoe, Green Shoe.

Paper companies doing better include Scott, West Virginia Pulp & Paper Consolidated Paper. Lower earnings are reported by Great Northern Paper.

Also among the 23 per cent of companies having a less profitable six months this year are J. I. Case, Deere, National Tea, Safeway Stores, Celotex.

General economic uncertainty at the moment colors the future profit prospects for many companies. And even those who expect to continue to improve maintain stoutly that the profit margin won't be enough.

PA. BUSINESS NOT SCARED BY MARKET SLUMP

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvanians may be more cautious as a result of the recent stock market tumble, but they are far from running scared.

A survey of the state situation shows, among other things, that: —Some of the big money men have pulled in their horns a little; —Retail merchandising has been affected only slightly, if at all, by Wall Street gyrations;

FAITH IN SAFEGUARDS

—Automobiles are best sellers this year and staying that way; —Consumer borrowing is still on the rise, and the money apparently is being spent quite freely, even for luxury goods;

—The man in the street, considering himself to be remote from high finance, isn't truly worried. He feels that a calamitous, tragic crash, such as the one in 1929 couldn't happen again, because of the safeguards applied since. That goes for the average woman's slant, too.

An economist for the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia said that although business is not what it should be, "the problem now is the same as before the stock market decline—the fundamental problem of the economy itself." He continued:

RECOVERY WAS WEAK

"We had only a weak recovery from the 1960-61 recession. By most measures this particular recovery in 16 months has shown less improvement than any of our previous post-war recoveries. And that was true before the stock market went to pot. The fundamental factor here is the relatively mild improvement of the economy."

As for the department store sale in the bank's area—Eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware—The economist said the are running about five per cent ahead of last year.

He and others, in Philadelphia and elsewhere in the state, reported that this is a good year for the sale of household appliances.

GREAT AUTO YEAR

"It has been a great automobile year, everywhere," the economist added, "and this appears to be keeping up."

There appears to be more caution in the western part of the state than in other sections—and more contradictory views.

An economist for the Mellon National Bank and Trust Company of Pittsburgh reported scattered signs that capital spending has been cut back, especially by small plants that had planned on rais-

Letters To The Editor

Aspers, Penna
July 13, 1962

The Editor
Gettysburg Times
Gettysburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

I noticed an article in Wednesday's (July 11) issue of your paper about a township supervisor in our community being "cited" for contempt of court because of a letter written to our county judge.

Where is our freedom that is taught in our public schools and so freely mentioned by our public officials? What is Democracy? Why can a letter be written to our President of these United States without being "cited" for contempt, but not to a county judge?

Will someone please answer these questions publicly for our school children? I am incapable of providing an answer to mine.

Very truly yours,
Charles H. Stonaker

DEAN POPE RESIGNS

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Liston Pope has resigned as dean of Yale University Divinity school to resume research, writing and teaching.

In the 13 years of his administration, the school has nearly doubled in size of faculty and building facilities. The Rev. Charles W. Forman is presently serving as acting dean.

CAMPUS WORK BACKED

WASHINGTON (AP)—A permanent organization, the National Newman Foundation, has been set up here to strengthen Catholic influence and activities on U. S. college campuses. More than $161,000 has been pledged to the foundation so far to aid Newman Clubs, the Catholic student centers at colleges not under Catholic auspices.

BIG SHARE TO MISSIONS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—More than 80 per cent of the 1962 budget of the Church of the Nazarene will go for world missions. Out of the total of $3,391,160, $2,189,497 will go to foreign missions, $458,035 to home missions and $65,000 for overseas broadcasts.

ing money through stock issues. He said the steel industry has cut back capital spending sharply ever since the first of the year.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

U.S. SENATOR'S WIFE HAS EYE ON SPACE TRIP

By JOSEPH E. MOHAT
WASHINGTON (AP)—The PTA and bridge club can look pretty tame to a girl when outer space beckons, a senator's wife who is a mother of eight observed today.

So why, Mrs. Philip A. Hart asked a House subcommittee, doesn't the United States take a closer look at the possibility of rocketing a female into orbit?

Space agency officials have shown no enthusiasm over proposals that women be included in the space travel program.

JUST "INCONCEIVABLE"
"It is inconceivable to me," said the wife of Michigan's junior Democratic senator, "that the world of outer space should be restricted to men only, like some sort of stag club."

Mrs. Hart hastened to add that she wasn't trying to be a space ace Susan B. Anthony.

"I am not arguing that women be admitted to space merely so that they won't feel discriminated against," she said. "I am arguing that they be admitted because they have a very real contribution to make."

GIVEN TO COMMITTEE
Her testimony was prepared for a House Space subcommittee studying the qualifications for astronauts—male and female.

Mrs. Hart is convinced the Soviet Union will send a cosmonaut into orbit this fall—and will be first unless the United States acts soon.

RUSK OFF TO GENEVA SOON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk hopes to gain a clue from Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko this weekend on whether the Russians intend to stir up further trouble over Berlin.

Rusk plans to leave at midnight Thursday for Geneva, where he has allotted approximately four working days for talks with Gromyko and other foreign ministers for the signing of the 14-nation agreement on Laos.

This will mark a new chapter in the lengthy and so far inconclusive talks on stands that have remained unchanged: Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demands that "Western forces get out of West Berlin, and the Western determine to keep them there."

Since he last met Gromyko in Geneva in March, Rusk has held half-dozen talks on Berlin here with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, with neither side budging.

House Campaign Group Is Named

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom named a special 11-man committee today to help coordinate the campaign efforts of GOP candidates for the state House of Representatives.

Named were: House Minority Leader Albert W. Johnson of Smethport; GOP Whip Edwin W. Tompkins of Emporium; Rep. Norman Wood of Peach Bottom, GOP caucus chairman; Rep. Stuart Helm of Kittanning, chairman of the Republican

4 LEGION MEN SEEK TOP POST

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Four candidates will seek the office of commander at the 44th annual state convention of the American Legion, which opens here Wednesday.

Vying for the top state office, presently held by George Bruno of Fountain Hill, will be Frank B. Ertl of Harrisburg, Louis J. Greco of Wilkes-Barre, Harry Klein of Sunbury and Larry J. (Pete) Cumber of Duncannon.

Some 6,000 delegates are expected to attend the four-day conclave, which will highlight speeches by Gov. Lawrence, Mayor James H. J. Tate and candidates for the offices of governor and U.S. senator in the November election.

The Legion will mark the 175th anniversary of the signing of the U.S. Constitution with ceremonies at Independence Hall on Thursday.

Other activities will include a "Miss American Legion-1962" contest on Thursday, annual drum and bugle corps competition on Friday and a parade through center city on the closing day of the conclave Saturday.

4 CONFER ON ROAD SAFETY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence called three of his administration's hierarchy into conference today to discuss new ways to halt Pennsylvania's mounting traffic fatalities.

State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCartney, Highways Secretary Park H. Martin and Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. Shipley were called to report on recommendations offered at a safety conference Monday at Hershey.

The three represented the governor at the emergency session with approximately 65 leading enforcement officers of Pennsylvania's 20 largest communities.

Highway fatalities in the commonwealth increased by 29 percent in the first six months of this year as compared with last—622 to 507.

One of the recommendations was that the use of radar be extended to the municipal level.

AWOL Marine Held In Girl's Death

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—A 20-year-old AWOL Marine is being held without bail on murder and rape charges in the death of one teen-age girl and the rape of another.

Pvt. William Lewis of West Nanticoke Heights pleaded innocent Monday.

Police said he has admitted his part in the death of Jean Volukonis, 14, of Plymouth, who fell from a cliff Friday night while resisting his advances.

An attractive 18-year-old girl testified that Lewis raped her in a vacant house before he started chasing the Volukonis girl. Several teen-agers were present at the time of the alleged attack.

Emmitsburg Rd., and Mrs. and Mrs. Carol Dodder, Littlestown, spent the weekend with the Hiltbrichs' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hesley, and Joane, Roslyn, Pa., and visited on Saturday evening with Mrs. Ida Trone, at Haddon Heights, N. J.

Miss Rebecca Wilhide, a student nurse at Frederick Memorial Hospital, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, Keysville Rd.

The annual picnic of the Graceful Workers Sunday School class and families of Grace United Church of Christ will be held July 19 at 6:30 p.m. at Taneytown Memorial Park.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

SYMBOL OF FAITH

One of the great symbols of the Christian faith is the Chalice—the cup from which wine is taken in Holy Communion. It represents the one from which Jesus drank at the Last Supper.

Mark relates "... he took the cup and when he had given thanks he gave it to them; and they all drank from it. And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many."

The cup is mentioned in the scriptures again and again. The phrase "my cup runneth over" appears in the Psalms, as does "I will take the cup of my salvation." St. Paul writes "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ?" And, in Matthew, Jesus refers to the cup as a symbol of faith—"Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with."

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

John (Ole) Olsen, of "Hellzapoppin" fame, married Eileen Osthoof, a Miami Beach, Fla., dancer and choreographer, in a quiet civil ceremony in Geneva, Switzerland, last month, it was learned Monday.

Olsen, of the former Olsen and Johnson comedy team, met his wife several years ago and appeared with her in many European theaters, although not in the same act. Miss Osthoof is known as Eileen O'Dare on the stage.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander of NATO forces, flew to Washington Monday on a one-day hop to confer with President Kennedy. Norstad spent about an hour and a half with Kennedy at the White House. He said no emergency caused him to make the quick trip, but that he generally reports in person to the President on the situation as he sees it in Europe and had not done so for some time.

Acting U.N. Secretary General U Thant arrived in Paris from London for two days of talks with President Charles de Gaulle and other French officials.

In Karachi, Pakistan, President Mohammed Ayub Khan and President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines declared peace and stability is needed to permit internal reforms and progress. A joint communique issued

Monday at the end of a six-day state visit by Macapagal said the two presidents reaffirmed their governments will cooperate in making efforts to enhance the authority of the United Nations "as an indispensable instrument on international peace."

GLEN ALDEN GIVEN CHOICE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Glen Alden Coal Co. of Wilkes-Barre was faced with this ultimatum today from the state: Either discuss financial settlement for a huge fish kill or face court action.

Atty. Gen. David Stahl said Monday the state would go to court if the firm refused to discuss a settlement for $38,000 assessed against it for the kill last October along the North Branch of the Susquehanna River.

The State Fish Commission set that value for the more than 100,000 game fish allegedly killed by mine pollution. The State Sanitary Water Board last fall officially blamed the pollution on acid pumped from Glen Alden's South Wilkes-Barre mine.

Stahl said he has asked for a discussion of a settlement within two weeks.

MOVIE STAGES ARE BESET BY CRAFT UNIONS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Turn on the wind machines," said the director as the actors stood shivering in the rain.

But who was to turn them on? There was a brief meeting as the jurisdiction was decided. If the fans were electric and under 18 inches in width, they would be operated by members of one electricians' local — if over 18 inches, by members of a local of a different electricians' union.

PROP MEN
If the fan is gasoline-driven, it is handled by the members of the prop men's local.

This shows you how fine the lines of jurisdiction have been drawn among unions of the movie industry. Virtually everyone but the bosses are unionized in the studio, and even the bosses have a Screen Producers Guild.

Each studio deals with about 45 unions. Actual shooting is done by members of 20 unions. Most are strong and jealous of their realm of influence.

CURIOUS SITUATION

This can lead to curious situations. Grips (roughly, stagehands) move walls and cameras; prop men move davenport. One union brings set material to the entrance of a stage; another takes it on the stage. Sets are delivered to the scene dock by one union, to stages by another.

"In many instances we have two unions doing identical work differentiated by the nature of the material they deal with and its destination," said a studio labor executive. "There is nothing illegal about it; these matters are all established by contract. But the studios have been stupid not to have the guts to stand up against this waste."

COULD CUT CREWS

"Stage crews could be cut 25 per cent if duties were not so rigidly enforced. As it is, we have sets full of workers, some of whom actually work only a small percentage of the day."

"It's ridiculous to hire a plumber for all day just to turn on a faucet once."

Labor men argue that their members are craftsmen who have worked long and hard to establish their position and that specialization provides efficiency. Even critics of Hollywood film crews concede that they are the best in the world.

Film maker Fred Zinnemann, who rose from the ranks, comments: "You can't undo the unions, and nobody wants to. I can remember the years before we had unions. We used to work every Saturday until midnight—without extra pay."

"Hollywood crews are superior in every respect. They are damn good people who are worth the difference in pay. But there is definitely featherbedding in the labor ranks."

STATE LISTS 17 ADDITIONAL DRY COUNTIES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state has declared 17 more drought-plagued counties as emergency disaster areas and asked the U.S. Agriculture Department to do the same.

Meanwhile, State Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning reported that more counties are being considered as possible disaster areas.

Three days ago U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman approved special drought aid for farmers in 22 of the state's 67 counties.

NO IMMEDIATE RELIEF

Included in Monday's request by Gov. Lawrence were these counties: Bedford, Berks, Blair, Clinton, Cumberland, Franklin, Huntingdon, Columbia, Indiana, Juniata, Lycoming, Luzerne, Mifflin, Perry, Pike, Potter and Schuylkill.

The request followed another special meeting of the state's USDA disaster committee.

The weather bureau could offer no hope of immediate relief as the dry spell parching the Commonwealth moved into its 10th consecutive week.

SOME HELP GIVEN

Light showers are predicted in many areas of the state this week but are not expected to provide effective relief from the dry conditions.

Freeman has granted farmers in 22 counties authority to cut hay and graze cattle on pastures now held in reserve under the soil bank program until Aug. 31.

However, Freeman has deferred action on the possibility of allowing emergency low-cost loans for farm operating expenses and feed purchases.

The drought has hit both farm areas and urban areas alike, shriveling pastures, drying up streams, withering lawns and depleting water supplies.

Little rain has fallen in Pennsylvania since last May.

Sen. Taylor Heads Campaign Group

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Sen. Harvey M. Taylor of Harrisburg, Dauphin County, was named Monday to head the GOP Senate Campaign Committee.

Taylor, the recognized leader of the GOP organization in Dauphin County and a powerful figure in GOP state politics, was named to a reorganization meeting here. Named to assist him were Sens.:

John H. Ware, Chester County, treasurer; James S. Berger, Senate minority leader from Potter County; secretary; Albert R. Pechan, minority whip from Armstrong County; and Robert Fleming, caucus chairman from Allegheny County.

Lunar Experts Says Moon May Have Abundant Water

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
Associated Press Science Writer
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The possibility that the moon may have an abundant water supply—including geysers and subsurface glaciers—was suggested today by an internationally known lunar expert.

Dr. Zdenek Kopal, British astrophysicist, said the moon's water supply may be so great that if squeezed out it could cover the lunar globe's surface to a uniform depth of 984 feet.

He told space scientists attending a lunar missions meeting of the American Rocket Society that his conclusions were reached deductively, based on known facts about the composition and behavior of celestial bodies.

WOULD BE HELP
Water is composed of hydrogen and oxygen and a lunar water supply would greatly simplify the supply problem of setting up a self-sufficient moon base with its own air supply.

In adding his support to those who believe water is present on the moon, Kopal said there is a possibility earth's smaller companion may have a permafrost several hundred feet deep.

Ice close to the lunar surface, he continued, could form glaciers covered by dust and debris. He said such glaciers could take the form of domes or minor bulges, numerous astronomers have observed in certain regions of the moon.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A 5-year-old rushed into the house and announced breathlessly that three daffodils were blooming outside.

"Fine," said her mother. "Go pick them if you like."
Off she tore, but returned with only one daffodil.
"I thought," she explained "that if I left two, maybe they'd have some more."

The Eisteddfod, a music and literary festival held in Wales, dates back to the Sixth Century.
